HAUT-MÉDOC

Château Bertrand Braneyre – 2002

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Early May marked the start of a long period of cold and bad weather, which slowed flowering and raised fears of insufficient fertilization. Indeed, failure of the fruit to set was observed on all varieties in June.

After a sunny period in July, August was very cold and wet. The grapes matured slowly and we began to worry. But a miracle happened in September, with the arrival of an Indian summer that lasted until mid-October.

In the end, we produced a Cabernet Sauvignon-dominant wine for the 2002 vintage which was powerful and balanced with an excellent tannin structure, suggesting that it would age well.

THE HARVEST STARTED ON OCTOBER 10

NOTE DE DEGUSTATION

- Vermilion in colour, deeper than that of the 2001 vintage
- Very aromatic red berry nose combined with aromas of wet underbrush
- Fine and delicate palate, fresh and fruity. Nice tannin structure heightened by a slight nuttiness
- Fruity aftertaste without dryness
